

FOR FOURTH TIME IMMIGRATION BILL IS VETOED BY PRESIDENT

Cleveland, Taft and Wilson Each Blocked It Before

NO TEST OF CHARACTER

In Urging Other Reasons Against Measure In Which He Finds Some Good

Washington, Jan. 29.—President Wilson today vetoed the immigration bill, recently passed by congress.

This was the second time that President Wilson vetoed the measure, because of the literacy test, and for the same reason, that President Cleveland and President Taft gave for vetoing similar measures.

In his statement, President Wilson says that he regretted to veto the measure as it contained many good features, but he objected to the literacy test because it is not a test of character.

Citing clauses which would exempt from this test aliens who prove to the satisfaction of immigration officers that they are seeking admission into the United States to avoid religious persecution, the president said that this would oblige immigration officers to pass judgment upon laws and practices of foreign governments, and would be not only an invidious function for administrative officers, but might be followed by "very serious questions of international justice and comity" between the United States and foreign governments.

The champions of the measure are preparing to pass the bill over the veto.

WINTER WEATHER ON GREAT PADEREWSKI ALL BATTLE FRONTS ENCHANTED AUDIENCE

Reduces Operations to Small And Isolated Engagements Everywhere

CLAIMS IN CONFLICT

As Result of Fighting In Region of Kut-El-Amara

Associated Press, Jan. 29.—With wintry weather on nearly all fronts, military operations have been held to very small engagements.

Operations southwest of Riga, which are apparently developing into a general engagement, are almost halted by snow.

On the French front, except near Verdun, there are only artillery duels. Near Verdun there have been some French attacks, which the Germans claim were repulsed.

There has also been some grenade fighting and artillery activity rather severe near Verdun. In Volpina and across the line in Galicia, there have been a few somewhat spirited isolated fights, with both Russians and Germans claiming captures of some trench elements.

Only minor operations are chronicled in Rumania.

While Germany says that the British suffered heavy losses in last week's attacks on the Irak front, the British announce that Saturday and Sunday the British took entire possession of the Turkish first and second line of trenches southwest of Kut-El-Amara, on a front of more than four thousand yards, and also took six hundred yards of third line trenches and inflicted heavy losses on the Turks.

Eight Hundred Million Dollars For Our Defense

Washington, Jan. 29.—The administration's eight hundred million dollar defense budget began to take shape in congress today, when the house of representatives passed the fifty-one million dollar fortification bill, and the house naval committee completed the 1918 naval bill, totaling more than three hundred and fifty million dollars.

The army appropriation bill, totaling according to estimate, more than three hundred and sixty millions, exclusive of numerous deficiency measures, is expected to be completed by the house committee this week.

The house committee authorized three forty-two thousand ton battle-ships, costing more than twenty-eight million dollars each, four battle cruisers of nineteen million dollars each, and followed all of the other navy department's recommendations, except that it did not provide for small coast defense submarines.

It authorizes twelve million dollars for enabling the navy yards to build capital ships, if it is impossible to get satisfactory contracts from private bidders.

Paramount Crowded to Doors by Those Eager to Hear Great Musician

WONDERFUL PROGRAM

Presented by the World's Greatest Pianist To Appreciative Listeners

Long before 8 o'clock last night the pavement before the Paramount theatre was crowded with people. From 8 to 8:30 o'clock the aisles of the theatre were a mass of people moving into their seats. Men in evening clothes, women with elaborate coiffures and gorgeous wraps, men in sack suits and women in plain gowns, two policemen, three Greek waiters, winter visitors, real Florida crackers from the open country, music teachers, hotel keepers, waitresses, young lawyers, old real estate men, women, women and more women—that was the audience that picked every seat in the theatre, filled the corner, stood in the rear aisles.

At 8:30 the lights all over the house were dimmed. The green globes under the balcony, the red of the exits, and the soft clear light that fell on the stage served only to make blots of white and black of the huge audience that buzzed and hummed and rustled as all audiences will.

Suddenly from a side entrance a lithe, thin figure in black slipped up on the stage, around the curve of the huge Grand piano and stood, one hand on his carved chair, facing the audience.

Paderewski! A sharp clatter of applause crashed simultaneously from floor and gallery, grew and scattered and crashed again as the black figure bent and bowed.

Then he sat down, struck a few chords, turned and looked carefully over the audience.

People rose from all parts of the house, some with opera glasses, all looking and peering down at this man seated quietly regarding them. This was Paderewski, the man they had come to hear and see.

They recognized, if they had never seen before, the slight figure, the low white collar, the mass of gray-yellow hair above the high pointed forehead. But most the cameo whiteness of that familiar profile, whiter by the pale glow of the hair and the long drooping moustache, claimed and held their attention. This was indeed Paderewski.

Then he began to play. His hands, those exquisitely delicate, almost womanish hands, that flicked across the keys; those things of steel and sinew that tore and stabbed their way up and down the keyboard, they had begun their evening's work.

He began with the Fantasia and Fugue in A Minor of Bach-Liszt. He played it simply, quietly, with absolute precision and absolute control. There was nothing of the dynamic, nothing of the pretentious in his presentation. It was like a calm hand placed on the intense expectancy of the audience. They quivered, relaxed.

Then, slowly, imperceptibly, as he wove the deft threads of the fugue music, Paderewski began to do something to his audience. They had come, some of them, through curiosity in the master artist; some, to see if he was as good as they said he was; others to see if he had changed since they heard him before, and others because he was Paderewski. Slowly, here one and there one, he gathered them up by the music that came from the tips of his fingers, caught them and held them by the something strong and sure and singing out from that mass of black wood and wires and ivory keys.

He finished, they applauded; but his effect was not totaled yet. From the Bach-Liszt he went to Beethoven, the Sonata in C Sharp Minor, Op. 27, No. 2, with its three movements. And it was in the breath between the adagio and the allegretto that Paderewski showed first what he was. He closed the first movement sharp and full, stopped, held the pause, his audience which had been a welter of human nature, held the pause with him, rigid, breathless, waiting upon his poised hands. They fell. The allegretto hurried on. Paderewski had wielded his audience.

From the sonata to the Schubert Impromptu in B Flat, through the Schubert-Liszt, Hark, Hark the Lark, which he substituted, and on to the gypsy and mounting phrases of the Erlking, Paderewski carried his audience with him. They could recognize the sheer beauties of his technique, the clear sharp color of his phrasings, but mostly they were carried up the gradually heightening tension of his carefully built program.

After a short intermission, he resumed with a series of Chopin. The lovely rounded notes, like dropping water, of the nocturne, the five movements, with the climax of the etude, the Mazurka and the valse and the sheer charm of his menuet, gave finally to the superb heights of the Liszt Hungarian.

LUMBER PLANT UP IN FLAMES

Tarpon Springs and Tampa Sent Aid To Odessa To Fight the Severe Fire

St. Petersburg, Jan. 29.—The Gulf Pine lumber plant, located at Odessa, about twelve miles northeast of Tarpon Springs, was partly destroyed by fire with a loss of about $30,000. The principal stockholders are understood to be C. H. Brown, president of the Tampa & Gulf Coast railway, and the Dowling brothers of Odessa.

A summons for aid in fighting the fire was sent to Tarpon Springs and was quickly responded to by that city's fire department which made a record run to Odessa and after the most strenuous work succeeded in saving the mill. Fortunately the wind drove the flames from the mill, and but for this fact the entire plant would have been wiped out.

Aid was also asked from Tampa, which was sent, but arrived on the scene after the fire was under control. After the arrival of the Tampa fire fighters, the Tarpon Springs department returned to the city, as all danger to the mill was over.

A great quantity of lumber was stored in the kilns and also between the kilns and the planing mill, nearly all of which was destroyed. Whether or not there was any insurance on the lumber could not be learned.

New York, Jan. 29.—In reply to the complaints of players that salaries are being cut, President Tener, of the National league, said tonight that the Federal league inflated salaries to such an extent that, despite the record attendance of last year, few of the major leagues made any money, and a re-adjustment of salaries was found necessary.

The educational phase of the exhibition has been given special emphasis by the directors this year. The judges will criticize all samples, so that the exhibitor may know the faults of his corn, and special lectures and discussions on topics along soils and crop lines will be given during the week. Ninety silver trophies and 250 other special prizes will be distributed among the successful exhibitors.

REINSTATE SEMINOLE

Relief Bill After Senator Fletcher Makes a Great Argument

(Special to The Herald.) Washington, Jan. 29.—Senator Fletcher succeeded today in having the senate increase the appropriation to relieve distress among the Seminole Indians of Florida and for their civilization and education, from $5,000 to $8,000.

The bill, as passed by the house, provided for an $8,000 appropriation, but owing to the fact that the Indian commissioner estimated that as only $5,000 of the $8,000 appropriated last year was used and the same amount would do next year, the senate committee reduced it to $5,000.

Senator Fletcher moved to amend the bill last Saturday, but after two hours' debate on it the senate adjourned without taking action, owing to the absence of a quorum.

Senator Fletcher moved to amend the bill again today, and after considerable debate, the appropriation was increased.

RIPPED UP PHONE CABLE

And Southside Telephone Service Has Been Interrupted

One of the First-Clark Construction company's dredges tore the telephone cable at Avenue D bridge yesterday and soon afterward all service on the south side of the river came to an end.

The Miami Telephone company put a force of men to work at once to repair the damage, and late last night it seemed likely that the service would be resumed in part this morning. Earlier in the evening Manager Whaler thought it would be at least two days before the cable would be completely restored to its original condition.

This is the second time within three months that southside service has been interrupted. The first accident was due to the act of the bridge tender in driving a pile, which cut into the cable.

GILCHRIST IN HIS OVERALLS

Former Florida Governor Volunteers For A Day's Road Work In Georgia

Waycross, Ga., Jan. 29.—Local good roads boosters, among whom will be former Governor Albert W. Gilchrist, of Florida, will, this week, don overalls and shoulder picks and shovels to repair a stretch of the Dixie Highway in Pierce county, which has been causing trouble for automobilists for some time.

Efforts covering a lengthy period of time to have the road repaired by the Pierce county authorities have proved unavailing and the local enthusiasts, anxious to wipe out this "black spot" have taken matters in their own hands.

Aiding in this work, Charlton county will send strong delegations, Charlton and Ware counties combining forces to repair one of the worst spots on the Dixie Highway in Georgia.

V. L. Stanton, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Harry D. Reed, president of the Progress club; Scott T. Beaton, mayor; L. J. Cooper, president of the First National bank; Thomas K. Cureton, president of the Citizens' bank; Calvin Parker and Volney Williams, Ware county representatives; Albert W. American Author Denounces His Country and the Entire Administration

Toronto, Jan. 29.—Pultney Bigelow, an American author, addressing the Canadian club, condemned the United States consular service, saying it is composed of "broken down, wheezy political bosses, worn out lawyers, dentists, and broken brokers," and said he had to sew up his pockets before he entered their offices and then go to the British consul to get whatever he wanted.

He also denounced the United States' neutrality, saying the United States' efforts in that direction have been afflicted with "clamy palsy" and that Great Britain lost its hold "on United States," German gunboats would "sail up the Hudson and Mississippi and sweep everything before them."

CONGRESSMAN SEARS IS ILL

Taken to Providence Hospital Because of a Nervous Breakdown

Washington, Jan. 29.—Congressman William J. Sears was taken to Providence hospital here yesterday afternoon suffering from what is believed to be a nervous breakdown. Every effort is being made to keep the matter a secret and there seems to be considerable mystery regarding his ailment.

When the house met today Congressman Frank Clark asked for ten days' leave of absence for Sears on account of illness.

When questioned later Mr. Clark said Sears was suffering from stomach trouble.

At Providence hospital the authorities would give no information regarding Sears' illness.

Dr. Jesse Shoup, Mr. Sears' private physician who is attending him at the hospital, said Sears "has the grippe like lots of folks in Washington."

From a close friend of Mr. Sears it was learned that the congressman is rather run down physically and mentally, and that a nervous breakdown was the principal cause for taking him to the hospital.

LANDED ONE 10 POUND BONE FISH YESTERDAY

Fishing Was Good For Those Who Tried Miami's Favorite Sport

By W. S. Thomas.

Although the fishing was good, comparatively few visitors went out in search of them yesterday. Those who did, however, were amply rewarded with fairly good catches of barracuda, kingfish and grouper. The day was a perfect one and the charter boat captains had their yachts all ready for a big run of trade.

One of the best varieties of fish and specimens from the seagardens was that brought to the Royal Palm dock by a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weiss, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Buchanan and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Garretson, all of New York, who chartered the Buffalo No. 2 for a day's cruising and fishing in the vicinity of Soldier key.

Here they found many small bottom fish which were taken with rod and line, and twenty-seven nice ones were taken. These consisted of about ten different varieties, including a parrot fish, yellow tails, turbot, bonefish, grunts, garfish, and various others. The party also brought back some large crawfish together with any quantity of sponges, coral, seaweed and other beautiful grasses and shells that were found in the sea gardens off the key.

While fishing in the deep water Mr. Weiss landed a ten pound bonefish, while Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Garretson caught barracuda, grouper and other kinds of big fish that are to be found there in large numbers. The ladies of the party landed any number of smaller fish, Mrs. Weiss capturing several different kinds. The rarest species, which included the parrot fish and a few other varieties, were turned over to Harry Brigham, the taxidermist to be mounted, and these will form a part of Mr. Weiss's fine collection of mounted fish and other animals at his handsome estate on Long Island. When the fish were brought into the Royal Palm dock the boat was surrounded by a throng of curiosity seekers who admired the extraordinary collection.

The charter boat Nemo, Captain Riley, returned to the Royal Palm dock yesterday afternoon with a good catch of barracuda, kingfish and scamp. The boat was chartered by Leo Lando and G. A. Dupuy, who are spending the season in Miami. The catch was exceptional on account of the size of the fish, although there were not so many of them. The anglers could have brought back more as Captain Riley found a fine fishing ground.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jermyn and A. H. Casden of New York city, left yesterday on board Captain Denny's yacht Dorothy, for a week's cruise among the Florida keys. The party left the Royal Palm dock.

The yacht Record returned yesterday from a cruise among the keys with M. S. Kemmerer and a party of friends on board. After the departure of his friends Mr. Kemmerer left on board the yacht for a trip to Lake Okechobee and Fort Myers, where he will spend several days cruising and fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dickson of Philadelphia, chartered the yacht Stranger, Captain Meloy, and left the Royal Palm dock yesterday for a week's cruise among the Florida

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

Look young! Common garden Sage and Sulphur darkens so naturally nobody can tell Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

keys where they hope to catch some fish as well as enjoy the sail.

Captain Goodwin, of the yacht Altonary, returned yesterday from a cruise among the Florida keys with W. S. Ray and a party of friends.

Nine large kingfish were brought into Elser pier yesterday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Casselman of Sidney, Neb., who went out on Captain John's charterboat Inwood. A variety of fish were caught which attracted attention while being unloaded at the pier and a most enjoyable time was reported by the visitors who are sojourning at the Plaza hotel for the season.

A large barracuda and several other fish, including a parrot fish and some yellow tails, were on exhibition at the Burdine sport shop, in the Hippodrome building, Twelfth street and avenue B, last night, and attracted much attention. The phenomenal catches that are exhibited at this place from time to time have been the means of tempting many of the visitors who are not slow to take up the sport, regardless of the fact that they have never had any previous experience in that line. Many of the converts have never even seen the ocean and generally experience their first spell of seasickness off the Florida reefs.

The interest that is displayed in the fishing about Miami, by the visitors from the inland states, may be judged from a little story related on the Elser pier recently by Captain George Deming of the charterboat Alice.

Captain Deming was busy cleaning his boat recently when a woman about sixty years of age, who was visiting the dock with her husband, stepped inside the vessel and requested the use of the boat for about five minutes.

Confident that the lady would do the vessel no injury, the genial captain granted the request. He was surprised when the lady began to

MANY DIVORCE CASES IN COURT

Desertion Is Principal Cause Urged Why the Matrimonial Chains Should Be Broken

Recent divorce cases filed in the circuit court will furnish attorneys with an abundance of work. Edith E. Godbey is seeking, through Hudson, Wolfe & Cason, a separation from Robert Godbey on statutory grounds. She also seeks alimony. The couple were married at Atlantic City, N. J., on June 28, 1916, and separated only a few weeks ago.

Mary Florida Haynes is suing Wm. M. Haynes, of Lebanon, N. Y., on the grounds of desertion. This couple started out on a matrimonial career in April, 1910, and lived together until April, 1914. R. R. Taylor & Son represent the complainant in the action.

Statutory grounds is made the basis of a suit for divorce instituted by Nathaniel Cooper against Annie Cooper. They were married in March, 1909.

Selonia Tynes sues William S. Tynes for divorce on the grounds of desertion, after having been married since 1905. The husband is accused of having tried to cut the throat of the complainant, and when she tried to have him put under a peace bond three years ago he deserted her.

Desertion is also charged in the divorce suits of Lillian King against Robert King, who were married in July, 1910, and separated one year later, and Effie L. Knowles against William Knowles, who were married in April, 1910, and separated nine months later. Taylor & Taylor represent the complainants in the above four cases.

pose in front of her husband's kodak for a picture. "Now look your prettiest, dear," the husband said, as he began preparing the camera for the snap shot.

The picture taken, the lady explained to Captain Deming that she was from out in Michigan and had never before been in a boat and it was her ambition to have herself taken from one of the fishing fleet at Miami.

"I have never before seen any fish taken, nor have I ever been where there was any water until I came to Miami and, naturally, I would like my friends to see me in a boat for once in my life."

The captain then tried to persuade the lady and her husband to take a trip with him and get a taste of the "real thing," but she declined with horror, declaring that she was afraid of the ocean and its many inhabitants.

GREAT PADEREWSKI

sody, played as few in that audience will forget.

And with much applause and an encore and more applause, and the final grouping about the piano while Madam Paderewski sold her dolls, the figure of the great pianist left the stage.

But the impression that remains of the work of the most prominent musician the world knows today can be an impression of details, of technique here, of beauties there. For Paderewski, who is above all called the people's pianist, whose appeal has been always the appeal not to the erudite in things musical but to the man and woman who love music often without knowing why, Paderewski showed the real nature of his genius last night to us in the Paramount. He is a musician and a great artist and a marvelous technician, but he is also something else. Above everything, Paderewski is a psychologist. He has learned that music is not a matter just for the performer nor just for the composer. It is a composite thing; made up of a musical idea to be presented; a skill in its presenting, and finally an audience finely adapted to receiving it as nearly as possible as it was conceived. And it is in this matter of creating audiences that Paderewski is finally the great genius.

To this end the program was planned and arranged; to this end the individual selections were chosen. Not any were beyond the average musical comprehension; not one but was based on a fine simplicity of idea with a unity of appeal. Carefully balanced, carefully contrasted, shaped to a splendid climax, the whole two hours with their cumulative effect, must be taken at once.

That Miami has been fortunate in being able to hear Paderewski goes without saying. That there was one in the audience who left without at least one clear idea of permanent musical beauty is impossible to believe. And if, in remembering the evening later, we shall hold among our memories the last glimpse of Paderewski standing by his piano, thin, a little tired, worn with the sufferings that are his because they are Poland's, we shall be glad to remember as a man as well as an incomparable artist.

Lively Day In Remembrance Of Birthday Of State Of Kansas

A super-abundant and super-excellent dinner was spread on the tables of the Hardie casino at twelve o'clock, yesterday and later came the "feast of reason and flow of soul" when the ninety-seven Kansans gathered in the upstairs reception hall, when a very inspiring program was rendered.

Mr. Junkin, as president of the Kansas Day Club delivered the opening address, which was both pungent and appropos to the moment. Mrs. Kate A. Applington read a number of selections from Kansas poets, including Ironquill's "Three States," William Allen White's "Funston," and Walt Mason's "Morning in Kansas."

Mrs. E. M. Lawrence, a speaker of national note, followed this with personal reminiscences of life in "Sunny Kansas," which proved to be characteristically amusing, and forceful as well.

At this point, Mr. Junkin called upon the assembled Kansans to tell what counties they were from, and in this free for all discussion many interesting points were made.

Ed. P. Greer, of Winfield, Kansas, editor of the Winfield Courier, was called upon to give the speech of the day, which he did in most acceptable manner, touching upon the advantages of Miami as compared with California, yet regretting the absence of so many Kansans from their old-time home state, Kansas.

Mr. Moiser then recounted many interesting events that came under his personal observation during the years from 1859 to 1880; after which the meeting was thrown open for informal social converse, after the "Rock-chalk, Jayhawk, K. U." yell, and the singing of "America."

MEETING OF FLORIDA D. A. R. HELD IN DELAND THIS WEEK

The fifteenth annual conference, Florida Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held in DeLand February 1 and 2, the Colonel Arthur Erwin chapter hostess.

This chapter, which is composed of some of the most influential and charming women of the state, has made elaborate preparations for the event, and all members will do all in their power to insure a pleasant visit for all attending.

Hotel College Arms has been designated D. A. R. headquarters and the business sessions of the conference will be held in the spacious sun parlor.

The following plans for social affairs have been outlined by the entertainment committee of the hostess chapter.

The hostess chapter desires that all delegates reach DeLand by Wednesday afternoon, January 31, and attend the reception which will be given on that evening by the chapter in the College Arms hotel parlors for the state, officers and delegates, city clubmen and clubwomen, officers of John B. Stetson university, and all visiting D. A. R. in DeLand.

The College Arms orchestra will play throughout the evening, and there will be character dances by Miss Mynain Lutz, of Columbus, O., who is unusually talented; and there will be vocal solos by Miss Spofford, who is in charge of the music department of Stetson university.

The reception is planned to enable the state delegations to meet in an informal way and get better acquainted, believing this will promote a friendly spirit among the various D. A. R. throughout the state. It is desired that all chapters have large delegations.

Thursday, February 1, Mrs. J. B. Conrad will entertain at luncheon at her pretty home. After the afternoon session, if there is time, the hostess chapter will have automobiles waiting to take the state officers, past state regents, and delegates for a drive around this pretty city.

Thursday night a brilliant D. A. R. banquet is being planned, this function to be given in the College Arms hotel. Those desiring reservations are requested to notify the chairman of the entertainment committee not later than 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Mrs. W. S. Taylor, of DeLand, will be toastmaster.

Friday at 1 o'clock, Mrs. R. M. Bond will entertain at a luncheon in the College Arms hotel. Any delegates who wish to be met at DeLand Junction are requested to notify the chairman of the entertainment committee, who will be glad to meet them and convey them to their hotels. The chairman is also ready to respond to any calls from any D. A. R. in the state, and assures them of her willingness to be of all possible assistance.

INTERESTING MEETING PROMISED

The meeting of the Woman's club this afternoon will be a most interesting one.

In keeping with the general program for the year's work it will take up two very salient questions of our modern social problem.

Mrs. R. V. Atkinson will present the question of probation and parole, especially in relation to juvenile offenders, while Miss Etta Baughman will take the question of child labor and juvenile delinquency. Miss Baughman is a social worker of many years' experience, so that she, as well as Mrs. Atkinson, will be well worth hearing.

F. J. Powers and Mr. Livingston were Miami visitors Thursday.

How about that watch? Is it giving satisfaction? If not, give us a trial. Work guaranteed. F. A. Walker & Co., 1112 Avenue C.

PREPARING TO WELCOME THE MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Who Will Come to This City in February After Inspecting the Everglades

At a meeting of the joint committee on Everglades affairs, composed of delegates from Ft. Lauderdale Board of Trade and Miami Chamber of Commerce yesterday committees on finance arrangements and publicity were chosen, and definite steps taken toward receiving and entertaining a large number of legislators of the state on the occasion of their visit of inspection to the Everglades drainage district on February 19th to 22nd.

V. W. Helm, Fleming G. Bailey and Locke T. Highleyman were named as the Miami members of the finance committee. The Ft. Lauderdale representatives will be selected later.

The committee on arrangements is composed of W. H. Marshall, Will J. Reid and Ralph A. Horton of Ft. Lauderdale, and John W. Watson and Guy W. Livingston of Miami.

All editors of Broward and Dade counties will constitute the publicity committee.

It was announced that acceptances have been received from fifty members of the legislature of 1917, to the invitation sent out some time ago by W. H. Marshall, with whom the plan originated.

Many of the legislators will motor down the coast and some will bring their wives with them. Ferry G. Wall of Tampa has announced the intention of bringing a delegation from the west coast in automobiles.

Nat R. Walker of Wakulla county wrote an encouraging letter concerning Everglades drainage and the prospects for remedial legislation by the next legislature, declaring he considers drainage is the big issue before the lawmakers this spring.

As already announced the legislators will come to Ft. Lauderdale on the 19th of February and board boats in which they will proceed to the lake region by way of the North New River canal.

Returning to the east coast they will come to Miami by way of the Miami canal.

Upon their arrival in this city the legislators will be banqueted and entertained in other ways.

The object of the trip is to give the members of the Florida lawmaking body an opportunity to learn at first hand of actual conditions in the drainage area so that they will be in a position to act intelligently when bills seeking to remedy the existing situation are introduced in the lower house and the senate.

THE UP-COAST COUNTRY IN ROADS PLEA

Would Use Federal Aid On Highway From Jacksonville To St. Mary's River

Jacksonville Metropolis: Federal aid being available for good road building, the question now in the minds of those who have the best interests of the state at heart is, why cannot part of that federal aid be used for placing the road from Jacksonville to the St. Mary's river in good condition permanently?

Of course all this federal money for roads is presupposed on a basis of fifty-fifty, and the county or the counties benefiting by the expenditure must put up an amount equal to that appropriated by the department. There has been set aside by the state highway commission the sum of ten thousand dollars from the federal appropriation made the state this year, for building the road from this city to the Nassau county line, toward Baldwin, provided the county of Duval sets aside the same amount of the county money, or otherwise provides this sum.

The much discussed and "cussed" bad road between this city and Lake City is being taken care of by the federal apportionments as follows: Duval county, $10,000; Nassau, $3,000; Baker, $14,000; Columbia, $5,000. With the raising of equal amounts—which will doubtless be accomplished at once—the road from Jacksonville west will be placed beyond carp of the most critical, and there will be opened into the state and to the east coast one branch of the important Dixie Highway that has been so much heralded as the future finest road in America.

Open Central Route.

The central route, the shortest route and the only ferryless route—which is the one from Waycross to Jacksonville via Folkston, and the new St. Marys river bridge which will be thrown open to the public Wednesday, February 7, needs work and money to make it the equal at least of the other road. It has a few miles of bad road and it must have immediate attention. Jacksonville cannot have too many good roads leading through it into Florida; Florida cannot have too many roads entering it from every quarter of the horizon.

When it comes to short routes and Red Airboat Carries Passengers starting from water front, foot of First street. No passengers carried after February 3rd.

THRIFT DAY FEBRUARY 3 BE OBSERVED

Gold Prize To School Children of Dade County For the Best Essay

Thrift day, February 3, will be observed in Miami, the banks being especially interested in the arrangements.

Mrs. Glass, of the savings department of the Fidelity bank, stated that she will pay a prize of $250 in gold to the school pupil writing the best letter or essay on thrift. These should be written on one side of the paper, and delivered to Mrs. Glass at the Fidelity bank, next Saturday, unsigned. The writers will be given numbers and their names will not be known by the committee.

Fourth grade children or under may write with pencil.

The competition is open to all school children in Dade county, or those of school age.

PLAN DAYLIGHT SAVING

New York, Jan. 29.—The plan to put a ruffle in Father Time's flight by turning the clock ahead an hour so as to catch one more hour of daylight every day, promises to interest many delegates, who are gathering here to attend the National Daylight Saving convention. The convention will hold its session at the Hotel Astor, beginning tomorrow and continuing over Wednesday. The daylight saving plan, which has received the endorsement of commercial and other organizations in all parts of the country, is to have every clock in the United States turned forward an hour on May 1 and back again on September 30. The plan is already permanently established in Germany, Great Britain, France, Russia, Austria, Norway, Sweden, Italy, Denmark and several other countries. In the United States the plan has been successfully tried out for several years past in the city of Cleveland.

routes through a city that must always be the mecca of tourists, if even for but a short while, the route leading through Jacksonville is undoubtedly the one to be given immediate consideration.

Will Open Trade.

The tourist travel does and will take care of itself. It is generally of the leisure class, a class to which a few more hours or an additional fifty miles makes little or no difference. The great advantage that Jacksonville will derive from the hard surfacing of the central route from here to the St. Mary's river new bridge, will be that it will open to the trade of the city an immense possibility in the needs of the thousands of prosperous farmers of southern and central Georgia. It will open to the pleasure of the families of these farmers, and to the convenience and pleasure of the merchants and the professional men of this central and southern part of the greatest state in the south, the magnificent beaches and shore resorts of Florida, from Fernandina to Miami.

When summer comes, with the bridge in commission and a hard road connecting this city's streets and the paved roads of the city with this magnificent clay and sand-clay roads of the "empire state of the south," there will be hundreds of automobiles daily coming down to enjoy the seaside pleasures and the cooling sea breezes of Florida, parties spending the week-ends at the resort hotels, and camping crowds fishing and enjoying the Florida that is like no other summer time climate for enjoyment.

These are but some of the reasons why Jacksonville, Duval county, St. Augustine and the east coast should get busy at once and see that the hard road from this city to St. Mary's river new bridge is an accomplished fact soon.

NEW HERALD MANAGER

Oscar T. Conklin is no longer connected with The Miami Herald, in any form or manner.

His successor as general manager of this corporation is Edward Taylor of Chicago. Mr. Taylor visited this city two years ago and is well known to many Miamians. He comes to The Herald with splendid recommendations as to his fine business ability, his sturdy traits of character and his charming personality. We believe that under his superior management The Herald will be a bigger, better and more popular newspaper than ever before.

We bespeak for Mr. Taylor the generous welcome and kind assistance of all our people.

COME, LET US REASON TOGETHER

The relations existing between union labor and The Herald have always been so frank and so open, that this paper knows that it will not be misunderstood when it advises the members of the Musicians' Union carefully to consider the situation created by the demand that the Highlanders Band shall cease from playing for a certain series of dances.

Here are the facts. The people of Miami, without any distinction, subscribed a large amount of money for the purpose of securing this winter, the services of a band that would not only attract many visitors, but would be an inestimable enjoyment to the people of Miami. To which the union consented.

It was not in any sense a money making scheme for anybody. It was the free gift of all the people who could subscribe to the necessary funds.

Unfortunately, the money raised was not sufficient to meet all the demands of the occasion. This was anticipated, and arrangements were made to hold a series of dances at which the Highlanders were to play. Their presence and music was the sole and only drawing card to these dances. Without them, the dances would not be held. The money earned by these dances was to be devoted to clearing up the deficit. In that far, only, are the dances a business proposition.

The union should understand perfectly that nobody is taking their places in these dances and that no wages are being diverted from them.

As the unions of Miami are all composed of fair minded men, there is every reason to believe that the Musicians' Union, will readily grant that, inasmuch as the dances are conducted for the purposes of making up a deficit in a public subscription, they are not the usual dance wherein they would be and ought to be employed, that the circumstances are unusual and do not form a precedent, that they can very readily waive any formal alities there may be in favor of a public movement in which no one is to profit. They can do this, for their rules provide a way for them to approve of the coming to the city of certain musicians and they will not be violating any of their own regulations in so doing.

The Herald is asking this particular union to deal fairly and openly with the public that has subscribed to this fund. It knows that the members of the union are as anxious for the welfare of Miami as is anybody else. It knows that they love Miami as we all love the city, and that they will sacrifice as much as anyone to see her prosper.

In this case thousands of persons are interested, the fair name of the city is at stake and the good will of the people is involved.

The union is not called upon to make any sacrifice, whatever. The dances would not be held if the Highlanders could not play for them, and the union is, therefore, losing nothing whatever by reason of the fact that the Highlanders furnish the music.

The Herald does not want to see the union incur the enmity of anyone in this city, and it urges the union, in the name of Miami, not to insist on demands which nine out of ten people in the city think extremely unreasonable.

A LESSON FOR US

Two hundred and twenty six years ago, last July, the Catholic forces of Ireland under James I. formerly king of England, faced the Protestant forces under William III, in the historical battle of the Boyne, noted in song and story.

The battle of the Boyne was not the culmination of the long struggle between the Catholics and Protestants of Ireland. That beautiful land has been harried to a greater or less degree from that time to this, and the differences in religion have been very largely perpetuated.

The green of Ireland was the color of the troops of King James and yellow that of William. Since that day the Orange and the Green have been the emblems of two widely separated peoples on one little island. The controversies that were not settled at the celebrated battle have persisted and much misery has resulted.

But all along through the years the people here and there have come a little closer together, they have forgotten some of their differences, they are kinder to each other.

And only the other day, when a Canadian regiment, the Duchess of Connaught's Own Rangers, appeared at the Irish town of Armagh, the Orange and the Green, the Roman Catholic and the Protestant, fraternized as they had not done for more than two and a quarter centuries. In Catholic churches and in Protestant, Catholics and Protestants intermingled to do honor to a regiment coming from a distant land, but which was fighting for their common country.

It was a theme for a poet, and marks a long step in uniting those whom religious differences have long kept apart.

Some of our American agitators should mark this lesson of growing friendedness between religions among whom they are attempting to raise antagonisms in this country. It may do them good to learn that other countries are becoming more liberal and more tolerant.

NEVER MEANT IT

It is difficult to believe that the usually frank and fair editor of the Homestead Enterprise meant it when he said in a recent issue:

Possibly this alleged idol buster thinks he can pull off any queer stuff of the kind in this far-south town and get away with it. It so, let some kind friend pass the hint to him that he has another able-bodied think coming to him, and that it would be the part of wisdom for him to think twice before he speaks once, if this first utterance is a fair sample of what he has in stock.

The "idol buster" alluded to is George H. Windle, of Chicago, editor of the Iconoclast, who has been a visitor in Miami within the past week or two. Mr. Windle was interviewed by The Herald and had a few remarks to make on several subjects including prohibition, in which there was nothing to excite the most fastidious.

Mr. Windle is acknowledged as one of the most brilliant writers and one of the ablest men in his line in the country and has a very large clientele all over the United States, who read his paper with great interest.

Now, because he may perhaps differ in his views with the gifted editor of the Enterprise that gentleman insinuates that something would happen to him if he should venture to speak his real opinions out loud while he is visiting in the south. In other words, while the editor of the Enterprise, presumably, is in advocate of the freedom of the press, he has some ideas as to the restriction of freedom of speech that do not run parallel with the first.

There is no subject in which people are interested that is not proper for public discussion. The guarantees of freedom to discuss any subject are the very foundation of all our liberties, and even to threaten that liberty is an injury to the cause of freedom the country over, and this paper really does not believe that the Enterprise meant to stop Mr. Windle, or any one else from discussing any subject in which the people are interested, in public, if he so desires.

THE USUAL WARNING

Already, Florida editors are taking pencil in hand to warn winter visitors that it is dangerous to return to the uncertain weather of the north too early. Unfortunately, winter visitors are not much influenced by these timely warnings, which are given in the utmost good faith and with the sole purpose of preventing sickness and even worse.

It is a very real danger, and Florida writers know it, because every season they learn of someone, some winter visitor, who, deceived by the balmy weather here into believing that a like condition prevails at home, departs for the north just in time to strike the blizzard weather of the late winter or the early spring. These editors, who always warn visitors, are very familiar with the letters that come back to friends announcing the death of this or that person who only a few days ago was a happy visitor in Florida and who returned to the north too soon. "He caught cold which developed into pneumonia, and died," is about the refrain of numberless letters received in this state, year after year.

It may be that our winter visitors who develop a sudden longing for home whenever the weather is unusually warm here, think that these warnings are inspired by a wish to keep tourists and visitors longer in the state, for the money their presence brings, but that is a sordid view that has no place in the mind of the Floridian.

Almost every resident has had personal experience of the disaster that awaits those who leave the state too soon, especially if they are not in the most robust health, personal by reason of the mournful letters that come back stating the direful results of too much haste in getting back to the north, after pleasant weather here.

We know the facts and we would save those who have made us their friends from pain and sorrow and death by a too early return to climatic conditions that cannot but be dangerous. We do not want their money, we want them to live and come again.

AGAIN VETOED

For the fourth time the immigration bill has been vetoed by a president of the United States, because it contains a clause making illiteracy a cause for exclusion of an immigrant.

President Cleveland first vetoed the bill, then President Taft added the weight of his opinion that the measure, with this test, was unwise, after that President Wilson vetoed it for the same reason, and now that it comes to him once more with the objectionable clause, he again vetoes it. "Illiteracy," he says, and correctly, "is not a test of character."

It is not known whether the supporters of the bill are numerous enough to pass it over the president's veto, although it was said during the course of the last debate upon the measure that there were enough in the house to pass it if he did carry out his promise to veto the bill if it came to him with the literacy test included.

We shall see, now, whether there is enough opposition to the president's wishes with relation to the bill or not. The chances are that many congressmen will weaken when it comes to the show down, and that enough supporters cannot be secured to make the bill a law, the president to the contrary notwithstanding.

The seismograph, originally designed to detect earthquakes, is being used in Europe to locate the enemy's big guns. Trained observer can distinguish accurately between the disturbance caused by a falling projectile and by gunfire and can tell the number, position and caliber of the guns.

If the senate carries out its intention of beginning work at eleven in the morning and continuing until ten at night, it will have to answer to the unions for breaking the eight hour rule.

OBSERVATIONS

Er— ah— Mr. Weatherman, of course we don't want to butt into your regular work, but if, that is, if we might be— er— allowed to make a— a suggestion, just as a sort of, sort of— you know— reminder, we might venture to say that just a little, a moderate shower— of rain, as you might say, would be very, that is, quite agreeable, and it— er— would kind of clean off the scenery, don't you know. But for heaven's sake, Mr. Weatherman, if you do anything about it, don't overdo it.

Some people pay their grudges a mighty sight better than they pay their bills.

If those Florida legislators come to Miami in March, we can guarantee that the police will not molest them.

Boston is a bit stuck up since it learned that British soldiers prefer pork and beans to Chicago beef.

PERSONAL NOTES

Eight years ago Lyman C. Flynt, of Monson, Mass., started to collect clocks. He now has several hundred stored in his house of all ages, sizes and conditions, antique, modern and middle-aged, Swiss, German, Italian, French, English and American, some that go and some that do not—in fact, nearly every kind of a clock that has been made during the last two or three centuries.

Motor driven snow plows have become a familiar sight in our large cities during severe snowstorms. They can scoop up more snow than a whole army of horse-drawn vehicles, and in some cities, notably New York, they have revolutionized the problem of snow removal. For the most part these plows have been attached to giant motor trucks. Now it is possible for any motor car, from the smallest to the largest, to be equipped with a plowing attachment devised by John A. Keeler, of New Paltz, New York.

NATIONAL PRESS

Leslie's

The proposed new zone system for increased charges on second-class mail matter is a plan aimed at one of the greatest educational factors of modern times. Many medical, religious and scientific publications would have to go out of existence. Postmaster General Burleson, realizing this, performed a simple act of justice when he called the attention of congress to the fact that to increase the present rate of one cent a pound on periodicals and newspapers would put many publishers out of business, and suggested that the consideration of the proposal be deferred. Not as much can be said for the good judgment of some of the members of the post office committee of the house, who persisted in recommending the higher rates.

Washington Post

One of the interesting disclosures at the fourth annual convention of the National Foreign Trade Council was that the loss of property in the European theatres of war represents a value of $5,985,900,000. While the estimate is approximate, it is not a haphazard guess. It is based upon a careful inquiry made by the council abroad, and it takes account of the part that this country may be able to play in the rebuilding processes.

Philadelphia Record

When President Wilson retorted hotly to a wretched blatherskite who sent him an insulting telegram last fall, he probably made a mistake, from the standpoint of the average politician, but it is likely that in the end he gained more votes than he lost by this well-justified display of temper. Equally regardless of consequences was he when he warmly rebuked some Baltimore wisecracks who undertook to tell what the military policy of the government should be and who went out of their way to jeer at the National Guard. They richly deserved the president's sharp words of censure for their bumptiousness. Their blunder is only too typical of those who are constantly advocating universal military service. They fail to appreciate the fact that the National Guard has proved a very serviceable stop-gap, and that until a policy of compulsory service shall be adopted, it ought to be supported in a state of high efficiency. Instead of this they sneer at the citizen soldiers and arouse a spirit of resentment that may prove fatal to their plans.

MILITARY SERVICE

Editor Herald:—
In behalf of the country I am serving, I wish to state my personal knowledge of the opportunities now presented to the young men of the states of America.

I know of no other walk in life that offers such advancement in promotion, and such an opportunity toward education as the army of the United States is now presenting.

My personal experience is what I speak from. I have served five years with the Stars and Stripes, and have gained a fair education, both in travel and in school. No doubt you young men have noticed the bird of the great Curtiss man, which is now here, fly far above this beautiful little city. But have you stopped to think that there is your chance?

You have the same chance to grasp those handles that guide the monster bird through the elements, as those men of courage and ambition.

As I walked through the little park yesterday I thought and wondered how many of the rich and poor who were mingled there were ready to serve the Stars and Stripes upon a few hours' notice; few, my lad, few.

And worst of all, when the hand played the national air, "Star Spangled Banner." Of course many respected the dear old notes; but many walked on in the mad rush of life and paid no attention.

I am in the recruiting service here at this city, and men between the ages of 18 and 35 years, who wish to grasp the opportunities now within their reach, may call at the army recruiting office, postoffice building room 332 and I will be more than glad to explain anything you wish to know about services under the Stars and Stripes.

Pittsburgh Beauty Loses Her Aviator

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Elizabeth Slawter, of East Pittsburgh, to Lieutenant Reginald Morse Charley, has just been made, but the young woman, one of Pittsburgh's beauties, does not know where he is, other than that he is "somewhere in France." The young man, who is in the Fifty-fourth Squadron of the Royal Flying Corps, flew across the English Channel with seventeen others some time ago, according to a letter to Miss Slawter, and since then she has heard nothing of him. However, she has no fear and is satisfied he will be on hand for the wedding.

OLD FOLKS NEED "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER, BOWELS

Salts, calomel, pills act on bowels like pepper acts in nostrils.

Enjoy life! Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy and constipated.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

BALD EAGLE CAPTURED.

A large bald eagle, which had been wounded, was captured at Gulfport by some boys who discovered the plight of the bird. They have it in a cage and hope to keep it as an attraction for visitors. The eagle measures 6 1-2 feet across the full-spread wings and is a fine specimen of a bird rarely seen in captivity. It put up a hard fight even though its wings were useless.

NO NEED TO FEAR BALDNESS

Here's a Good Way to Stop Loss of Hair and Start New Hair Growth.

If your hair is falling or thinning out, don't wait another day, but go to Elbre's and get a bottle of Parisian Sage, the truly efficient hair grower.

Don't say: "It's the same old story; I've heard it before," but try a bottle at their risk. They guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair, to stop falling hair, to cure dandruff and stop scalp itch, or money back.

Parisian Sage contains just the elements needed to properly invigorate and nourish the hair roots. It's a prime favorite with discriminating ladies because it makes the hair soft, bright, and appear twice as abundant.

Parisian Sage is inexpensive and easily obtainable at all drug stores.

MOTION PICTURE TALKS ON MOTORS

Miami motor car owners are to see at close range, Friday afternoon and evening, what makes the wheels go round in that space underneath the hoods of the cars they drive. Announcement of this was made by J. T. Weathers, who has arranged to bring to Miami, Gilman M. Flint, of the Society of Automobile Engineers, to give a motion picture talk on the Willys-Knight motor.

The lecture is to be held at the Hippodrome theatre as an added attraction to the regular program, in which Frank Mills is featured in the "House of Mirrors." Mr. Flint's talk is the one he has given before large audiences in Chicago, Boston, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh and other large automobile centers.

According to Mr. Weathers, invitations are to be extended to automobile owners of Miami and arrangements have been made to accommodate a capacity audience.

"The discussion is not technical," said Mr. Weathers, "nor were the motion pictures produced from an engineering standpoint. Mr. Flint ranks high as an authority on automobile motors, and he has the faculty of explaining in the language of the layman the 'why' of an automobile motor."

SAVE YOUR HAIR!
25 CENT BOTTLE
STOPS DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

METHODIST PASTOR
'IS SHOWERED WITH
GOLD AND DIAMONDS

St. Petersburg, Jan. 29.—The Rev. S. A. Keen with his family, left for Jacksonville Saturday to take up his work there as pastor of Snyder Memorial Methodist Episcopal church.

A large crowd of people gathered at the station to bid him a loving farewell and to wish him great successes in his new field of labor.

Many tokens of loving appreciation were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Keen during the last week of their stay here, among them being an electric runabout, a beautiful sunburst lavaliere, a complete shaving set including a gold safety razor, a gold watch fob and cuff buttons, artistically engraved, an elegant shopping bag, books, towels, two gas heaters, a large rich cake, fruits, flowers, and a generous purse. For these things, and especially for the love of which they are substantial expressions, the people of the First Avenue M. E. church and of St. Petersburg will be most affectionately remembered by the recipients.

Hurrah! How's This

Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lock-jaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft or callus.

You simply apply a few drops of freezone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

EVA BOOTH
COMES SOUTH

Head of Salvation Army To Attend Southern Conference In Tampa

Tampa, Jan. 29.—Commander Miss Eva Booth, the head of the Salvation army in this country, will attend the southern conference to be held in Tampa February 22-25. The following telegram was received by Adjutant George Morris from the head of this district:

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 2.

Adj. George Morris,

Commander coming Tampa councils. Can you arrange big united meeting Casino Sunday night, churches cooperating? Col. Jenkins, Col. Stan-

MOORE HAVEN IS A BUSY YOUNG CITY

The splendid Moore Haven hotel is crowded to overflowing every day, and it is remarkable the number of very distinguished people who have of late been registered here, for Moore Haven is demanding the interest of a great number of people of note, as it becomes known more and more.

When this fine hotel was built it was considered to be large enough to meet the demands for some time, but today it is much too small for the requirements as they exist, and although there is another hotel and a rooming house with restaurant in connection, the hotel accommodations will have to be increased very soon.

It is a very common occurrence to have 80 to 100 people served at one meal, and this splendidly appointed hotel is indeed a busy spot.

Altogether Moore Haven is becoming a wonderfully busy city—an activity being noted in its progress—and its electric lighting system, its picture theatre and many other indications of progress, it is fast becoming the center of unusual interest to the tourist, investor and homeseeker.

whose leadership the Salvation army has made such strides in this country. Commander Miss Booth is said to be a magnetic speaker, and Adjutant Morris is already at work planning for a monster mass meeting at the Tampa Bay Casino on the night of Sunday, February 25. Miss Booth has been in this country ten years.

During the conference here the new citadel of the Salvation army, at the northwest corner of Tampa and Harrison streets, will be formally dedicated. The southern district includes

CALOMEL SALIVATES
AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

the states of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida. Colonel Jenkins, mentioned in the telegram from Brigadier Crawford, is head of the trade department of the Salvation army; Colonel Stanyan is head of the industrial department, and Brigadier Griffith is the private secretary of Commander Miss Booth. In addition to these officers, Colonel R. E. Holt, of Philadelphia, will be in attendance. Adjutant Morris is planning to

WELBORN WILL
WAS UNUSUALGives Large Part of Property To Negro Woman Who Nursed HimThe fact that Sarah Thompson, a negress, is the chief heir to an estate amounting to many thousands of dollars, became known yesterday, when the will of the late Robert Welborn, who died recently, was filed for probate in the county judge's office.Mr. Welborn, who was possessed of a fortune that is estimated at about $200,000, in real estate holdings, left his wife $100 per month for a term of two years when she is to receive the residue in whole.Dr. N. S. Burnham, who had treated Welborn and by whom the Thompson woman was employed as a nurse, is also a beneficiary, according to the will, and receives all land owned by Welborn that lies in Palm Beach county.Mrs. Conrad Schmid is to receive, according to the will, all land owned by Welborn in the Security Land Company's tract, with the exception of that which lies within the city limits.To J. H. Taylor, a friend of the dead man, will go all of the land owned by Welborn in section 20, township 53, range 41, which lies along the Miami canal west of the city.Because she nursed him through a severe sickness and without pay, is the reason stated in the will for the bequest to the Thompson woman.The clause follows:
"To Sarah Thompson, colored, who nursed me through a severe sickness without pay, I give lots 16, 17 and 18, block 22 north, city of Miami; also all my property and interests, whatsoever I may have in Jape's subdivision, Erickson's addition and Wad-dell's addition to Miami, all three of these being additions to Miami. I also give her any money I may have on my person or on deposit in any bank and all my personal effects of any nature whatsoever, and direct all this to be turned over to her within one month after my death."With regard to the bequest to his wife, Alice Welborn, the will states,
"I give to my wife, Alice Welborn, to be paid to her at $100 per month for two years and then it shall be given to her as a whole."The will was dated January 3, 1917, and selects John B. Reilly and E. B.
Kurtz as the executors. The document was witnessed by J. E. Lumms,
F. E. Cox and A. N. Patton.Whether there will be any contest with regard to the will could not be learned yesterday, although it was admitted that such a course has been intimated.TWO MORE TRIALS

gal, India.The program closed with a satirical skit on the preparedness movement, written and produced by Charlie Gano.If the frequent outbursts of laughter and the constant ripple of merriment may be taken as indications, the latest appearance here of the justly celebrated Coburn's minstrels, was even more satisfactory to theatre goers than any that have preceded it.
A matinee performance will be given this afternoon and an evening program tonight.

SILVER 77 CENTS AN OUNCE

New York.—Bar silver rose to 77 cents an ounce in this market today, within one-quarter of a cent of its highest quotation since the war. The record was made last May on a heavy demand from European as well as Oriental sources, after which the price fell back to nearly 70 cents.The renewed strength of silver is in keeping with general condition in the metal trade. Copper and other base metals are holding close to the best prices of last year, these in effect establishing records for twenty years or more. Another reason for the renewed strength of silver is the embargo some time ago declared upon the metal by Germany, and England's prohibition of its use in the arts.The long suspension of mining operations in Mexico, for many years an important source of silver supply, also has helped to deplete supplies
in this market.

AMUSEMENTS

"BATTLE CRY OF PEACE"
AT THE PARAMOUNT
TODAY AND TOMORROW"The Battle Cry of Peace" seems more like the whoop of war than the battle cry of peace. It preaches a sermon from the text, "Be Prepared," and illustrates it with such a multiplicity of appeals as would drive a sensitive man to enlist or to drink.War anno domini 1916 is shown here in New York, not only at our very and various doorsteps, but even inside our drawing rooms and living rooms. The runs of our forts are silenced by the enemy's dreadnoughts, the city is bombarded and falls into the hands of the invaders, who turn the fire of a machine gun on a crowd of captured snipers, just as though one were witnessing part of the present European struggle.The protagonists of the drama part of the picture are the Harrison and Vandergriff families and a man spy, and a woman spy disguised as universal peace advocates. There are in the two families Vandergriff, pater, a financier, who talks peace when there is no peace; his wife, son, a grown daughter, Virginia, and a young daughter and John Harrison, an enthusiastic disciple of Hudson Maxim, author of "Defenseless America," and lecturer plenipotentiary on the same subject; and the said noble Johannus's brother, sister and mother.The picture was staged along gi-gantic lines and 25,000 National Guard troops, 800 G. A. R. veterans and 8,000 other "supers" took part. Besides Mr. Richman and Miss Talmage, the cast contained other well known persons, including Joseph Kilgour, as George Washington; E. M. Holland, as General Lee; Lionel Braham, as the War Monster; and Thais Lawton, as Columbia.ANTICIPATE GREAT

provement association have sold 140

will reach 150.Among the principal speakers is W.
L. Miller, city manager for St. Augustine. He is expected to arrive in Mi-

UNION'S STANDDirectors Chamber of Commerce Think Musician's Union is In the WrongThere seemed to be a disposition on the part of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday to call for a "show down" on the issue between the Musicians' Union and the Chamber of Commerce relative to whether the Royal Scotch Highlanders band is to be permitted to play for a dance at the Collins' casino every Friday night.They expressed themselves as of the opinion that the members of the Musicians' Union have taken an arbitrary stand, and are not willing to give the same consideration to the city's welfare that the directors and other public spirited men have given.While the directors of the Chamber held no formal meeting to consider this question, they talked it over informally among themselves. Several declared that if a fight is on they are ready to see it through, since they have no right on their side.The statement was made that "organized labor in Miami is digging its grave, and digging it wide and deep"
and if a fight is precipitated it will be because the Musicians' Union is willing to give nothing, while demanding everything.One of the directors said: "We have given money from our pockets and put in much time to raise funds for the employment of the band—all for the benefit of Miami—and because we wish to give a dance that would not have been given had we not brought the band to Miami, the union throws a monkey wrench into the machinery. The dance would not have been given otherwise, so the band men receive no money that would have gone into the pockets of a Miami musician. In fact there is no issue."A meeting will be held this morning by members of the Musicians'
Union and directors of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the situation.

WHAT THE DOCTOR KNOWS

KIDNEYS MUST BE RIGHT TO INSURE HEALTHFew people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength.When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's Disease, which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in one year, in the State of New York alone. Therefore, it is particularly necessary to pay more attention to the health of these important organs.An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.When your kidneys require attention, get Swamp-Root at once from any pharmacy. It is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00.However, if you wish first to test
this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N.
Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Miami
Herald.THOUSAND BUSHELS OF BERRIES A DAYPlant City, Jan. 29.—The recent fine weather has brought out the strawberries in quantities and solid refrigerator carlots are now being shipped in addition to the heavy express shipments in pony refrigerators.Thursday was a busy day at the shipping platform, as 29,584 quarts were handled. This was nearly 1,000 bushels, and as this is very early in the season some idea may be obtained as to what the movement will be when the season is at its best. Already more than 350,000 quarts have been marketed.
